SEGA GAMES

Beach Head 2000

Beach Head 2002 once again puts players in the position of a lone soldier, now charged with defending a vital inland command post against an imminent airborne assault. With the beach invasion repulsed, players are sent to the rear for some well-deserved R&R. The enemy, however, has other plans. Mighty annoyed at having their invasion scuttled, they are determined to launch an all-out airborne assault in the rear. The rear echelon reward turns into a nightmare as the enemy begins an all-out assault on with wave after wave of paratroopers, infantry, tanks, armored cars, helicopters and gun-ships converging on the battlefield. Adding to the madness is the re-introduction of the player's former drill sergeant, whose exclusive assignment is to "inspire" and "motivate" players once again. Hire Beach Head 2000 for your war themed event!

Silent Scope

The game has three modes of play: Target Practice, Time Attack and Story. Target Practice lets you practice your sniper skills; Time Attack challenges you to clear several stages with a fast time and a high accuracy rating; Story mode has a variety of intense missions. You will pick-off terrorists while perched atop a skyscraper, take down a thug who is carrying a hostage down a football field, hit moving targets while speeding down the highway, and even don a pair of night-vision goggles as you are dropped by parachute into an enemy compound. Each mission has a tough boss enemy that requires a great deal of skill to take down. Your life meter will go down each time you are hit or accidentally kill an innocent by-stander. You can restore lost health by being a voyeur and sighting "interesting" side events.

Time Crisis 2 Twin

The President's daughter is in trouble, so save her! You and a comrade progress through each of the game's different levels. After a short animation, you're placed right in the middle of combat, with enemies firing at you from afar (or up close). Start blasting all the enemies on screen, but watch out! You only have a limited amount of time to finish each level. If you run out or are depleted of all your health supply, it's game over!

THE D DAY 40's SHOW

The show is set in 1939 in the heart of wartime Britain. Featuring "The D Day Girls" A vocal harmony trio of the era and "Mr John Adams" an actor / director and soldier of war.

The story begins as we hear the declaration of war speech on the wireless and the darlings say goodbye to their life long friend John as he packs up his troubles and goes to fight for his country. Before John goes he see's an advertisement in the times newspaper from ENSA (The agency providing entertainment to the troops in WW2) and he promises the darlings he will write to ENSA and tell them all about the wonderful D Day Girls, could this be their big break?

As the story unfolds we see the girls at home working hard to keep the spirits of the nation bright with their songs and supporting the homeland. John returns from the army with the news the girls have been waiting for, a request for them to perform in "The greatest show on earth" for our forces around the world.

The story is pieced together with a plethora of the most popular and beautiful music of the 1940's wartime era, featuring songs by: Vera Lynn, Gracie Fields, Bing Crosby, The Andrews Sisters, Frank Sinatra and more. With a series of authentic costume changes to add the authentic 40's glamour and a dazzling backdrop of original film footage from the era, the show brings the spirit of wartime Britain alive and brings back fond memories for all.

Proudly supported by Dame Vera Lynn & The Royal British Legion

"This show brings the spirit of the wartime era alive, and recreates the music and memories that kept Britain smiling through her darkest days."
