Why Use Langford Productions for your Event? The answer is simple your peace of mind!

Experience counts and by employing Langford Productions' services you can be assured you have been provided with the best possible entertainment available within your budget. The experience, knowledge and vast choice of artistes we offer is fully at your disposal. Coupled with this using a reputable entertainment agent such as ourselves you are safe in the knowledge that you have an experienced person on board to help with the detail and organisation of your event

Another major benefit:-

Should your entertainer / band / act become ill and you have booked with ourselves we will use every professional endeavour to replace the act like for like, with our extensive database of acts & trusted trading partners this does not normally present a problem. Also many acts offer agency preferable rates this can often save you money. Add to this written contracts and the agents' extensive knowledge of the industry, venues and artistes and you can see why we provide true peace of mind.

Langford Productions are members of The Agency Association of Great Britain..

Both organisations are the trade organisations for the professional agent. All members as a condition of membership are obliged to adhere to the strictest code of conduct within the industry to ensure quality delivery of professional entertainment consistently.

Langford Productions was founded by Zena Simmons & Heather Kerr-Wilbur whose experience of the industry spans over 35 years. Established in 1996 Langford Productions is now one of the busiest and most respected agencies in the country. We are regular suppliers of artistes and events to the British Forces.

Along with all the reassurances mentioned above we also take care of the following details. We ensure you have all the vehicle details in advance along with full names of personnel. The artistes are given direction on carrying passports, dress code, early arrival times and mess etiquette. On large function whenever possible a representative from Langford Productions will be present at the start of the evening.

Do you need some further reassurance?

When you deal with Langford Productions you don't just benefit from the vast choice of artistes knowledge and ideas for your event you'll benefit from:-

- 100% commitment from all our dealings with you.
- Top quality Entertainers & Events
- Prices that are simple and realistic
- A friendly and informed service.
- A simple process for making bookings
- 24 Hour support
